

2022 Triangle Bird Count

What is the Triangle Bird Count?

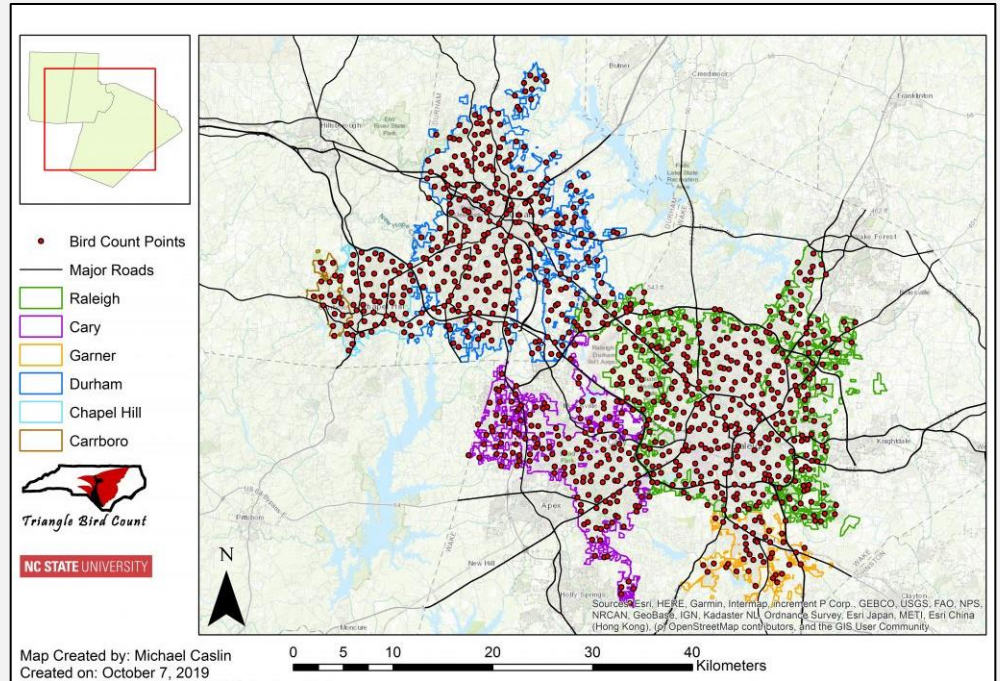

A citizen science project from the Lab of Reconciliation Ecology at the North Carolina State University.

When and where will it take place?

The Triangle Bird Count will take place between April 15 – May 31, 2022.

What will the data be used for?

The data will be used to monitor the abundance and diversity of bird species in and around the cities of North Carolina's "Research Triangle": Carrboro, Chapel Hill, Durham, Cary, Raleigh, and Garner.

Who can participate?

Intermediate to experienced birders are preferred but beginner birders are also welcomed to participate! Participation will require having the skills to identify most urban birds by both sight and sound. There are bird ID quizzes to help you improve your birding skills.

If you are interested in volunteering or if you want more information, please contact the project coordinator Jin Bai at jbai5@ncsu.edu or visit our website at <https://trianglebirds.org/>

Triangle Bird Count

Facebook: trianglebirdcount

Twitter: TriangleBirds